PERSPECTIVE OF HANGAR AND ACCESS ROAD LOOKING EAST (During the 1940s the Arnold family leased part of their land to serve as a runway and airplane hangar. The building on the right of the photograph was originally two separate airplane hangars - they were joined in the early 1950s to provide covered combine parking between them. The building on the left of the photograph is a tractor shed. The building at a distance was gasoline and oil shed for the planes)

INTERIOR OF WORKSHOP LOOKING SOUTHWEST (When the airplane business ceased in the early 1950s, Charles Arnold converted one of the original hangars into a workshop. The building was heated by the oil lamp shown in the center of the photograph, and by a separate wood-burning stove that is not shown)
